LECTROSONICS 411A

These are diversity receivers, with the ability to scan their radio spectrum to find a clear channel and then tune to that “hole” to avoid interference. Handy on movie sets and series production. Most come with a Sanken COS-11 lavalier mic. Alternative transmitters include the tiny digital SMA and the water resistant MM400c.

COMPLETE PACKAGE $80

LECTROSONIC 211

This is very similar to the 411. This wireless can alternatively use a “plug-on” transmitter, that attaches to the bottom of any stick mic, turning it into a wireless handheld Mic.

COMPLETE PACKAGE $70

LECTROSONIC 210

Like the 211, this is a diversity receiver, but it is not tunable. Similar to a 190 in all other respects.

COMPLETE PACKAGE $60

LECTROSONIC 190

This is our workhorse wireless that goes out with most packages. These are non-diversity and are mainly assigned to block 26. Most come with a Tram TR50 lavalier, although you can have a Sennheiser MKE2 Gold by request.

SENNHEISER EW100

These are provided as a less expensive alternative to the Lectros, and are mainly used by wedding videographers. They are tunable, have a line level input cable and a PSC lavalier Mic. There is no hardwire adaptor.
